1970 Eagle

Volume 10

Published By The Journalism Classes
Of Brinkley Senior High School

Jackson, Mississippi

Prologue

This book is a pictorial essay: a story in pictures of life at Brinkley Senior High School.

The purpose of this book is to emphasize in words and pictures the spirit which has found its way to the Brinkley campus.

In our attempt to portray this spirit, we tried to cherish many moments spent on our campus. To capture, preserve, and recapitulate every moment which has special meaning is impossible, but we, the 1970 Eagle Staff, are presenting the highlights of 1969-70 in this essay.

We Dedicate Our

The 1970 Eagle Staff pays tribute to you, the dedicated teachers and students, who terminated your stay at Brinkley the end of the first semester.

There are so many reasons why we miss you: the way you talked at times; the way you walked down the halls; your recitation in class; your generosity—

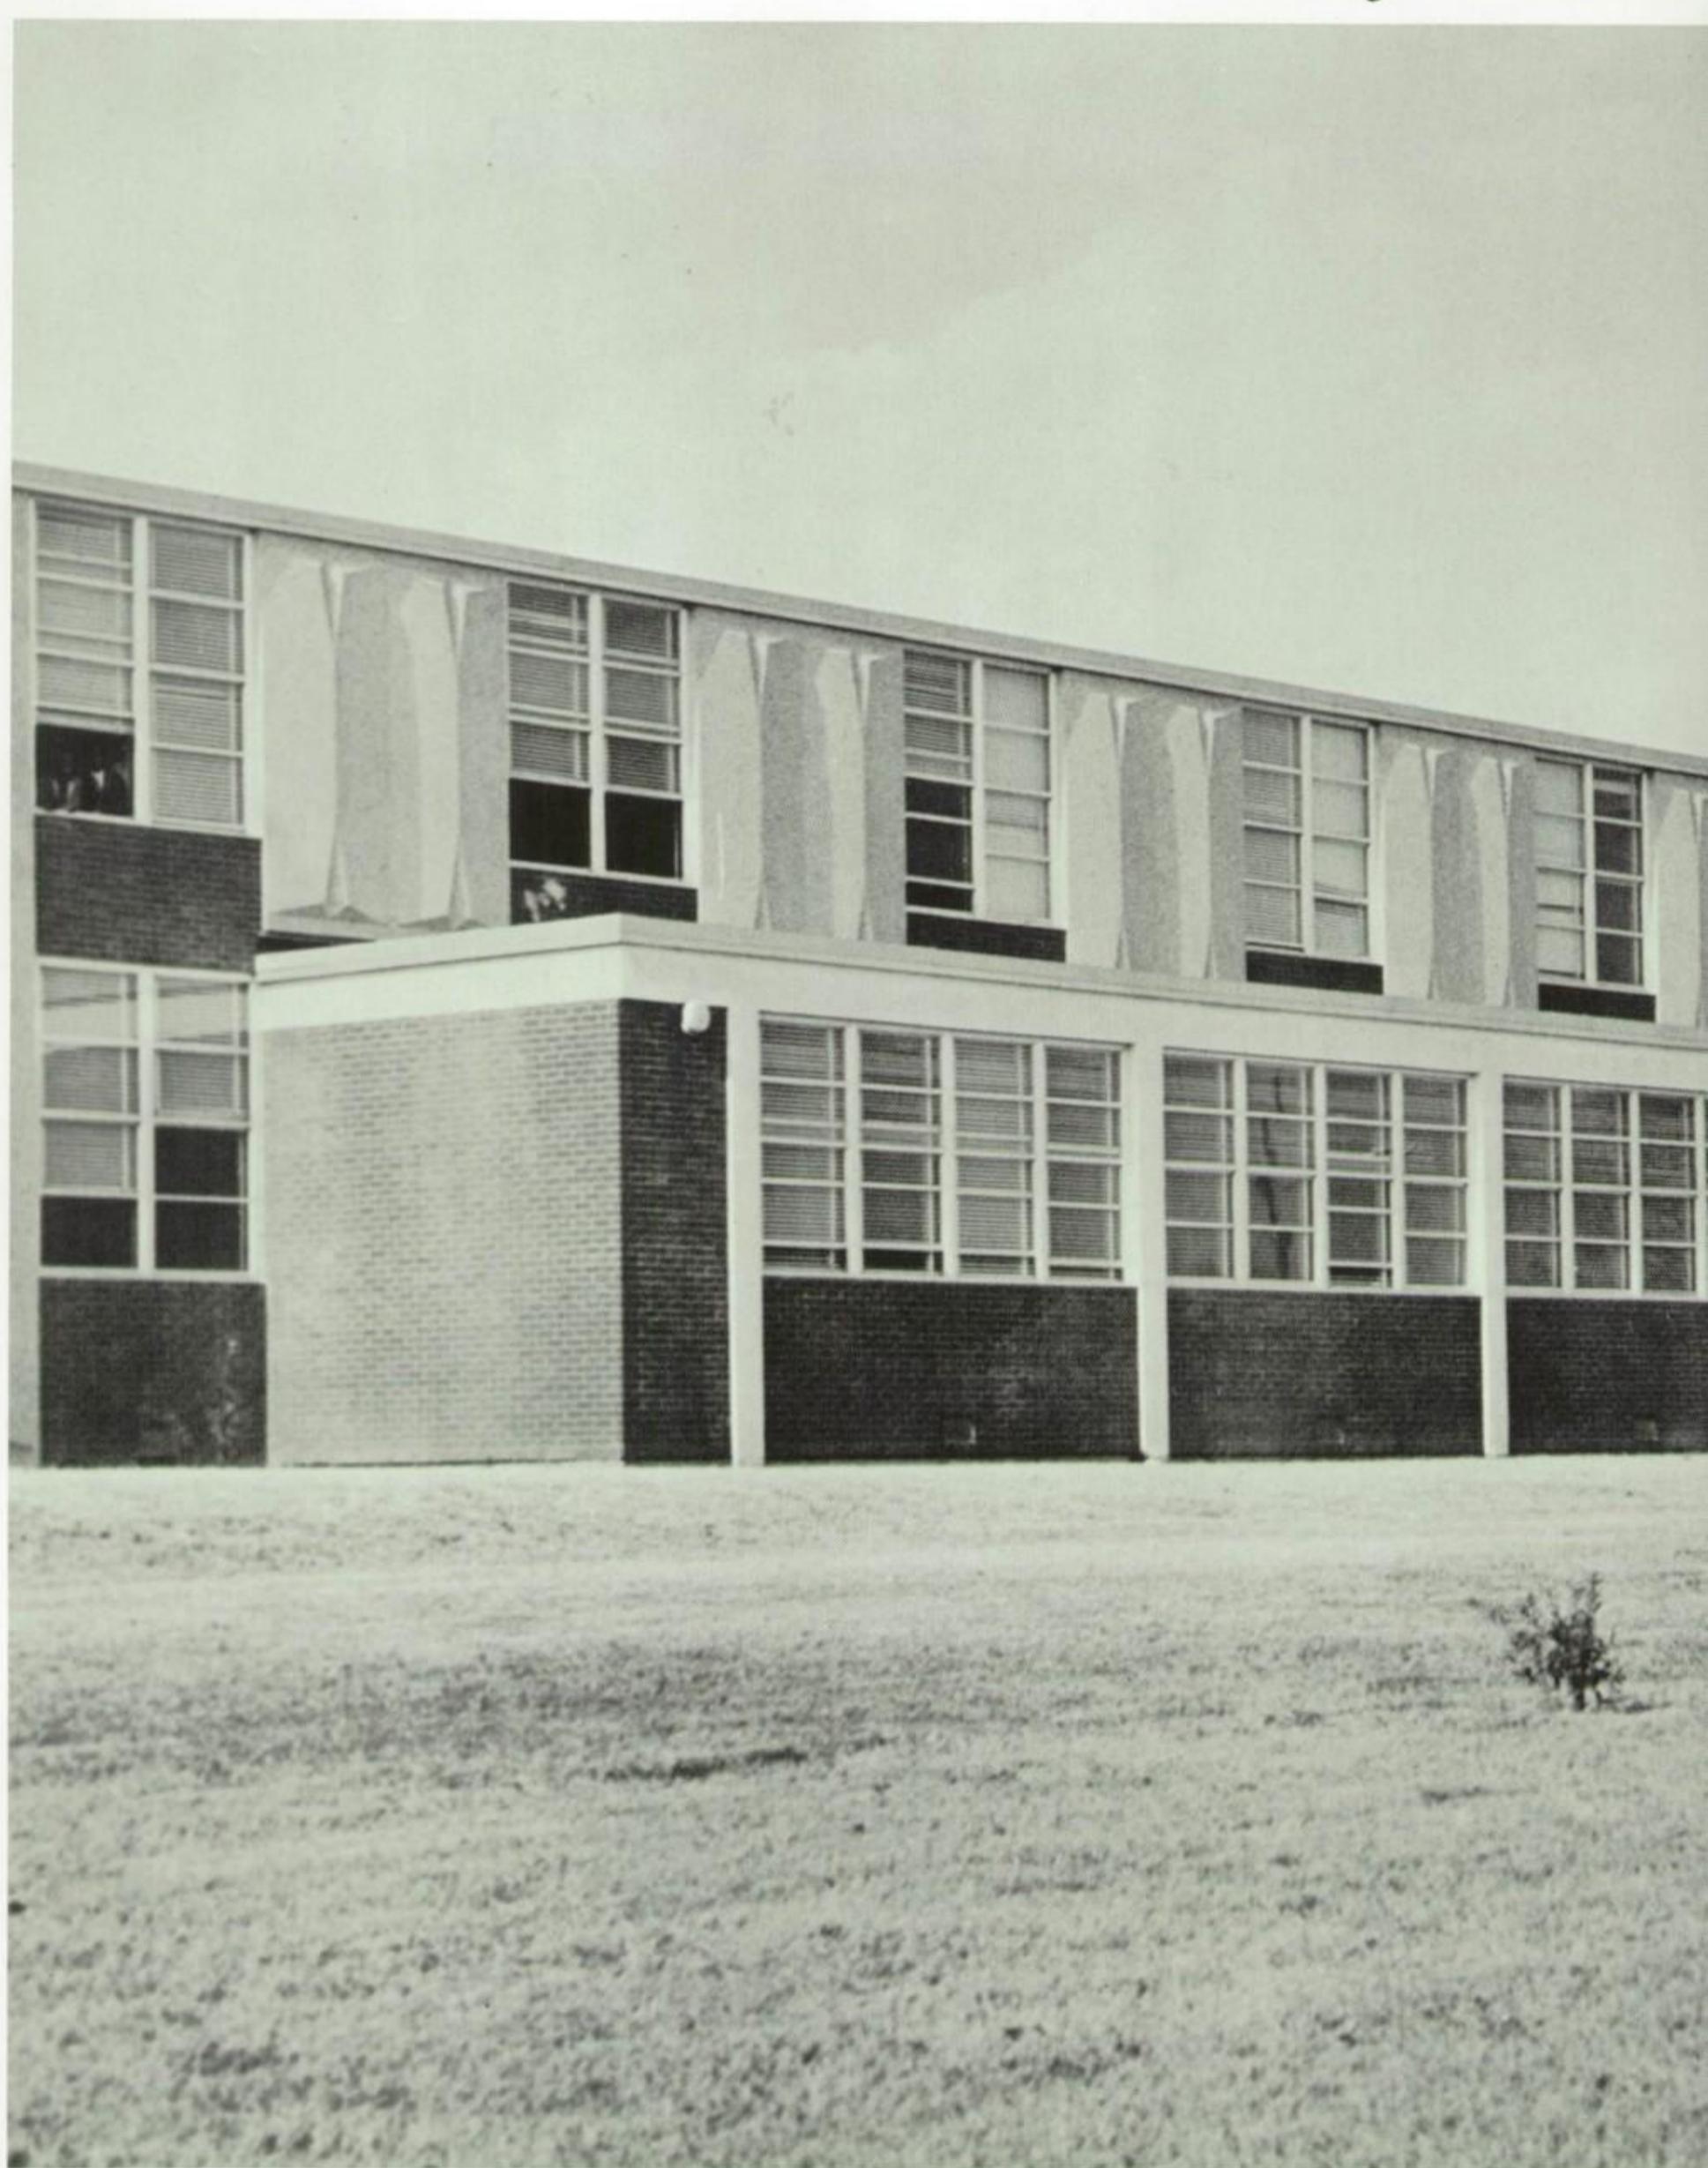

1970 Eagle

The chairs and space you once occupied remind us of the wonderful relationship we shared as a group.

your words of encouragement; your departing of knowledge; your cooperation with the total school program; and well, your just being here.

High School

Cafeteria

Scenes

The cafeteria workers plan wholesome menus daily.
Mrs. Hubbard is the manager.

Christmas Tree

The Brinkley Family usually celebrate the Christmas season with enthusiasm. Students plan plays, parties, concerts, and members of homerooms exchange gifts.

The entire building is decorated with trees, holly, biblical scenes and other types of decorations.

Christmas Assembly

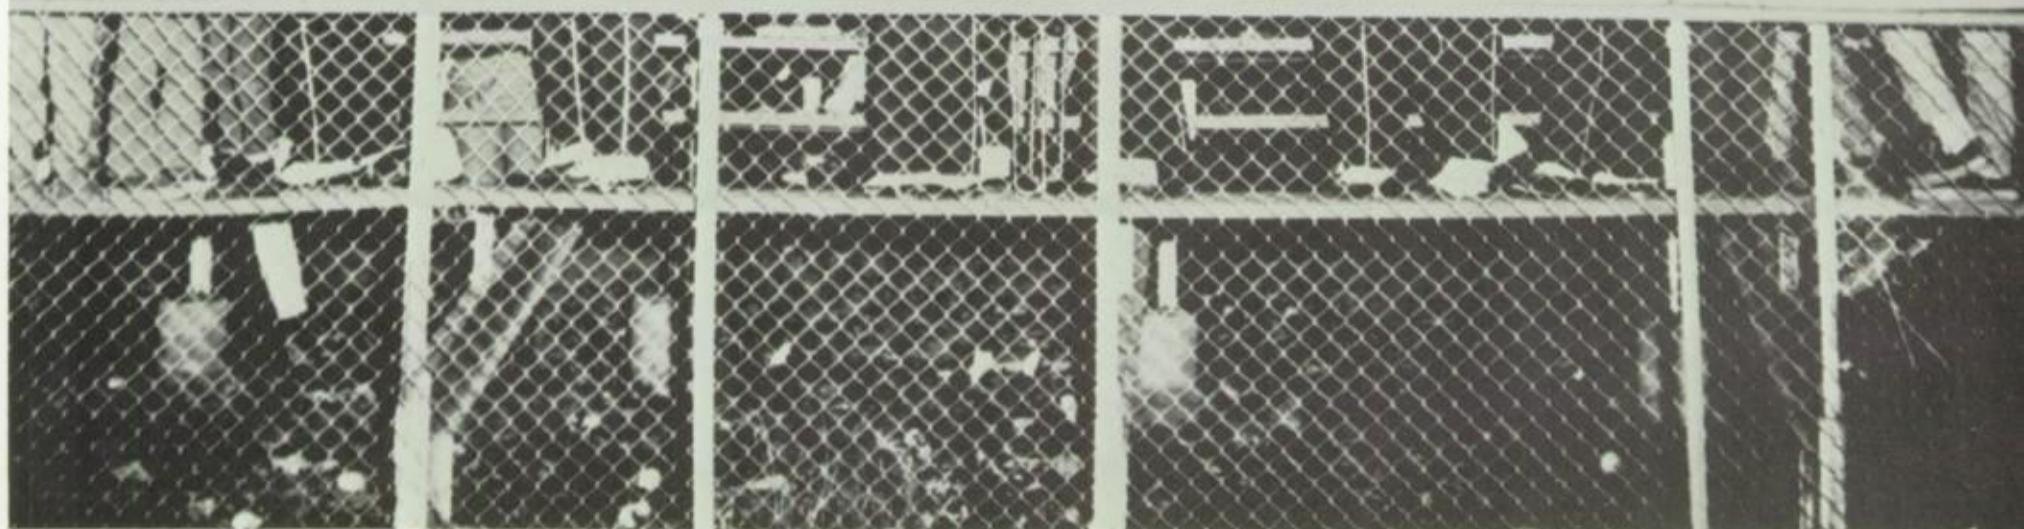

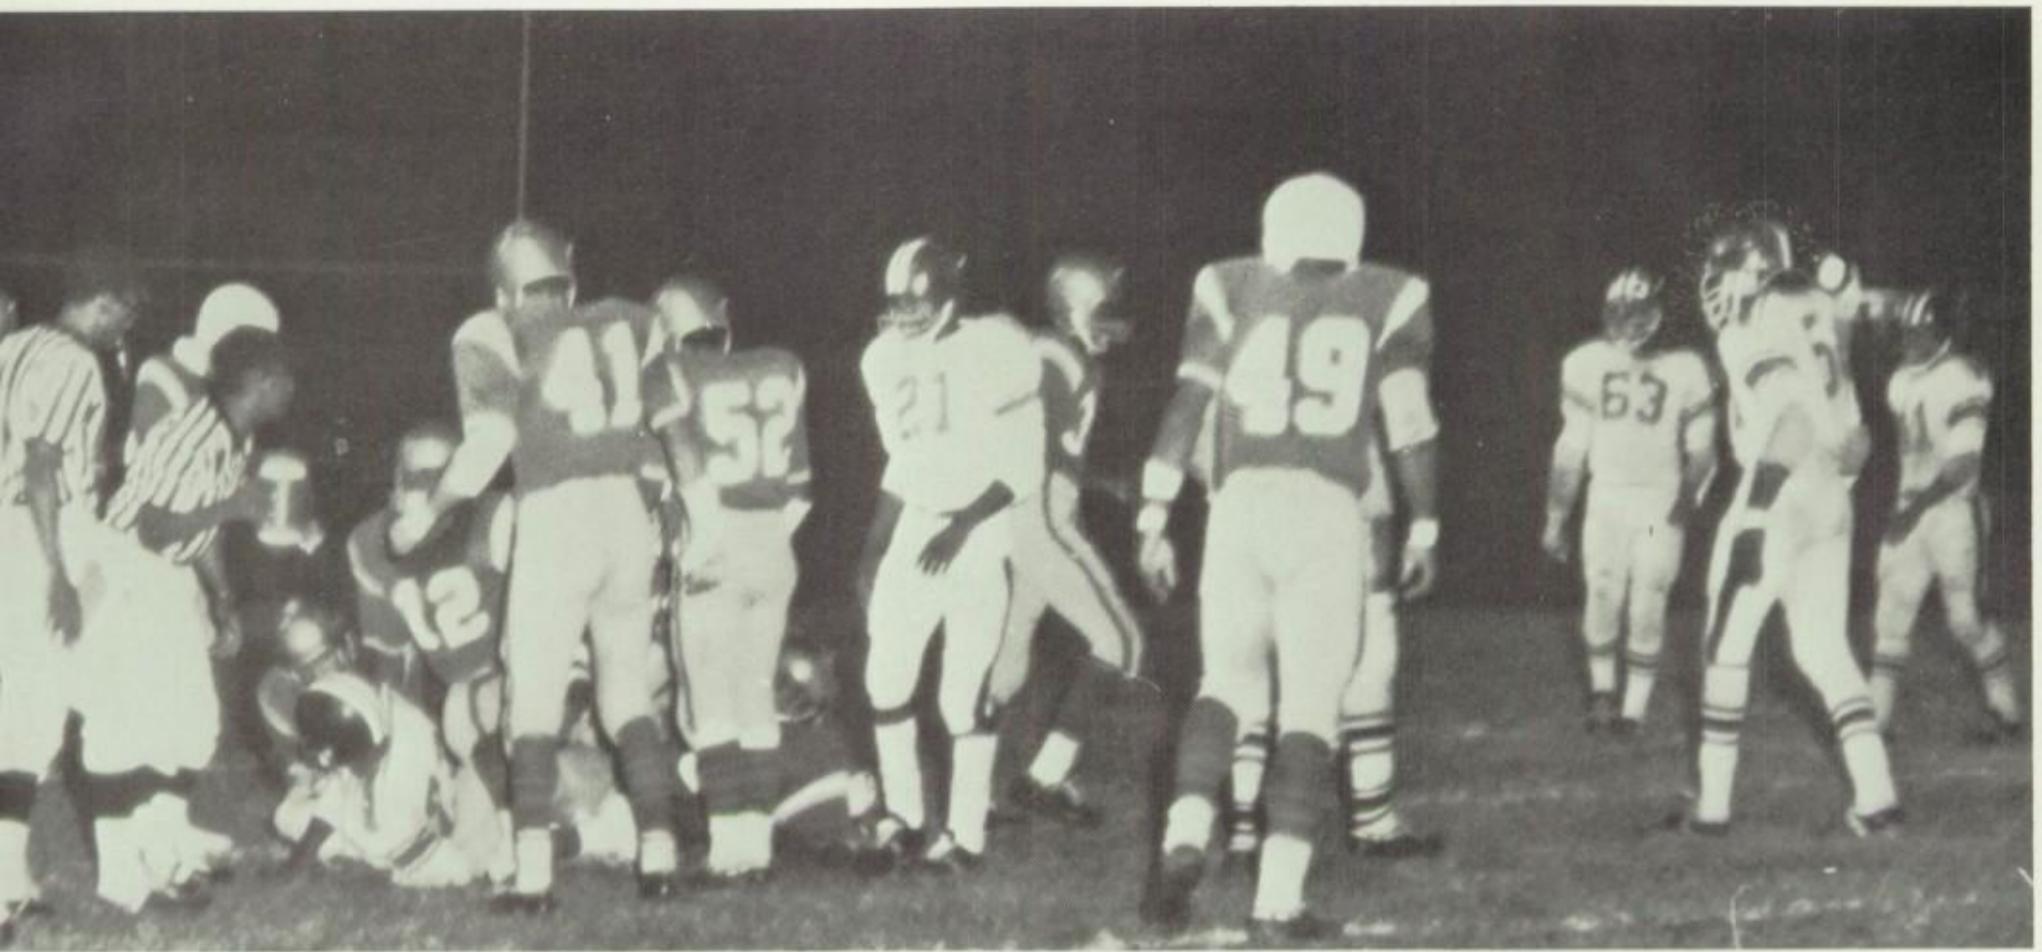

The German Class presents a program in assembly.

The Brinkley - Hill Football Game

Highlighting the football season is always the annual game between Brinkley and Jim Hill. The stadium was filled with fans rooting for each team.

Hill defeated us by a score of 14 - 7.

We Celebrate

Dr. Walter Washington, president of Alcorn College was the main speaker in assembly during American Education Week.

He chose as his subject "Black Boy" taken from Richard Wright's novel.

Among the guest was Mr. Amos Wright, President of the Jackson-Alcorn Club, who introduced the speaker.

Immediately after the assembly, the committee and guest ate lunch in the homemaking department.

American Education Week

Members of the platform guest are Mr. Sylvester Griffin, principal Joseph Sutton, Dr. Washington, Mr. Lucious Turner, Mr. Amos Wright.

This Group Leaves

Principal Sutton congratulates the class.

Karolyn Shields, Rev. Willis, Mr. King, and Mrs. Nichols are among platform guest.

Senior Sponser leads the processional.

Our Dearest School

A little sadness is mixed with happiness.

After twelve years of hard work mixed with fun, play, and excitement, they finally made it.

Believe it or not, this is the last meeting for them as a group.

The diplomas mean that they have really finished.

Mr. King and Mrs. Nichols deliver diplomas.

"We have looked forward to this day a long time" says Karolyn Shields, commencement speaker.

The Staff Presents

Dom Taylor
presents book to
Mr. Sutton.

This group spent hours and hours preparing book.

Assistant principal King receives book from Frankie Watson.

The 1969 Eagle

The Annual Presentation is a long anticipated occasion. Throughout the year, pupils are curious about the honorees, the color, and the theme.

Annuals are presented to the principal, honorees, and other noteworthy persons.

Talent numbers are also used for entertainment.

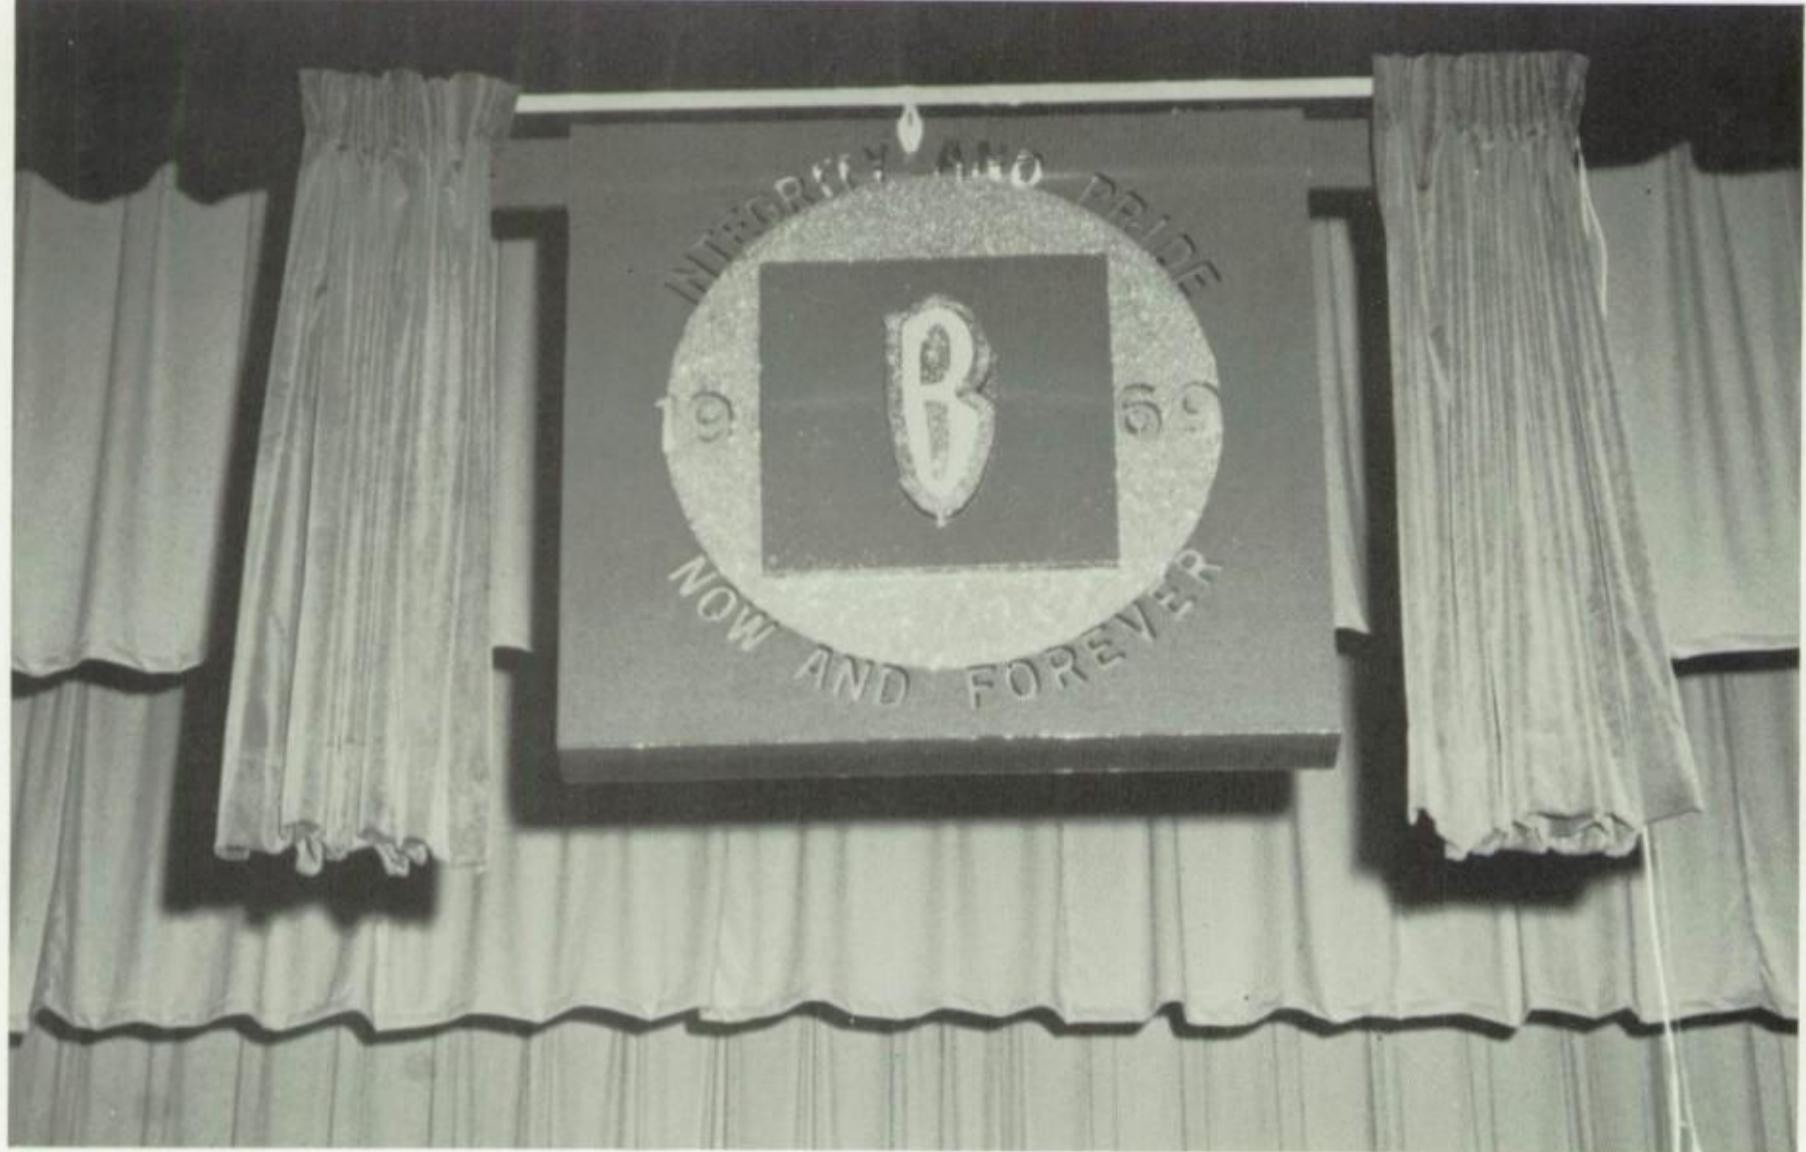

D. Matthews, M. McGee, and T. Woods entertain audience.

19 Devoraux presents the honorees a book.

Seniors Unveil

The senior class selects as their motto "Integrity and Pride Now and Forever"

Melvin White directs class song which is in the tune of "Moving On".

Their Motto

The audience gets a good view of the entire class.

Jerri Thomas presents the class flower,
"The Carnation".

Members of the class prepare for the recessional.

Seniors Present

They cheer their team to victory.

This group dance during the game.

Principal Sutton receives gift.

The last will and testimony is given by B. Taylor.

"Play Baseball"

They really pull for their team.

Baseball players make plans.

Senior Class

Valerie Terry delivers the valedictory address.

Hollis Pippins appears as special guest with Johnnie Cooper.

These are persons who made Who's Who in class.

Night

The room is filled with music.

Salutatorian Melvin White speaks.

Everyone Has The

The exuberant feeling on campus throughout the day can not be described.

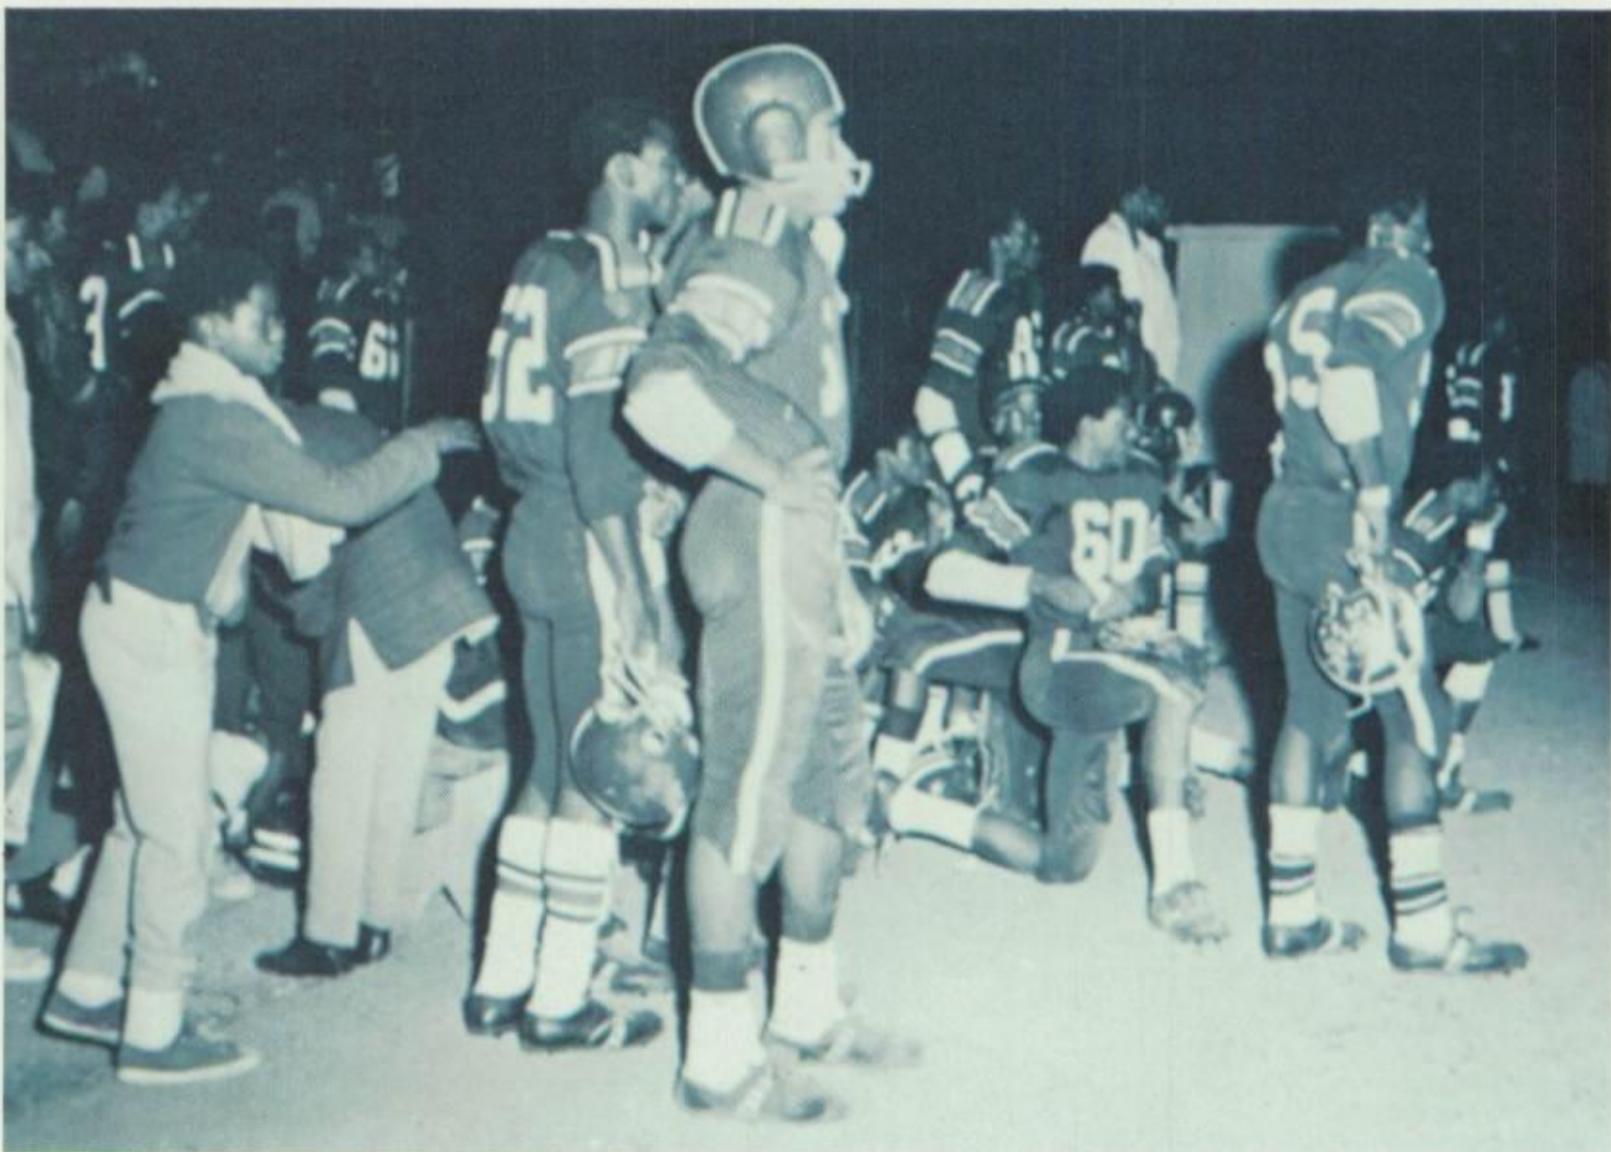

Football captain, John Butler crowned DeLeslie Payne, queen.

The band played such numbers as "Gentle on My Mind" and "Amen".

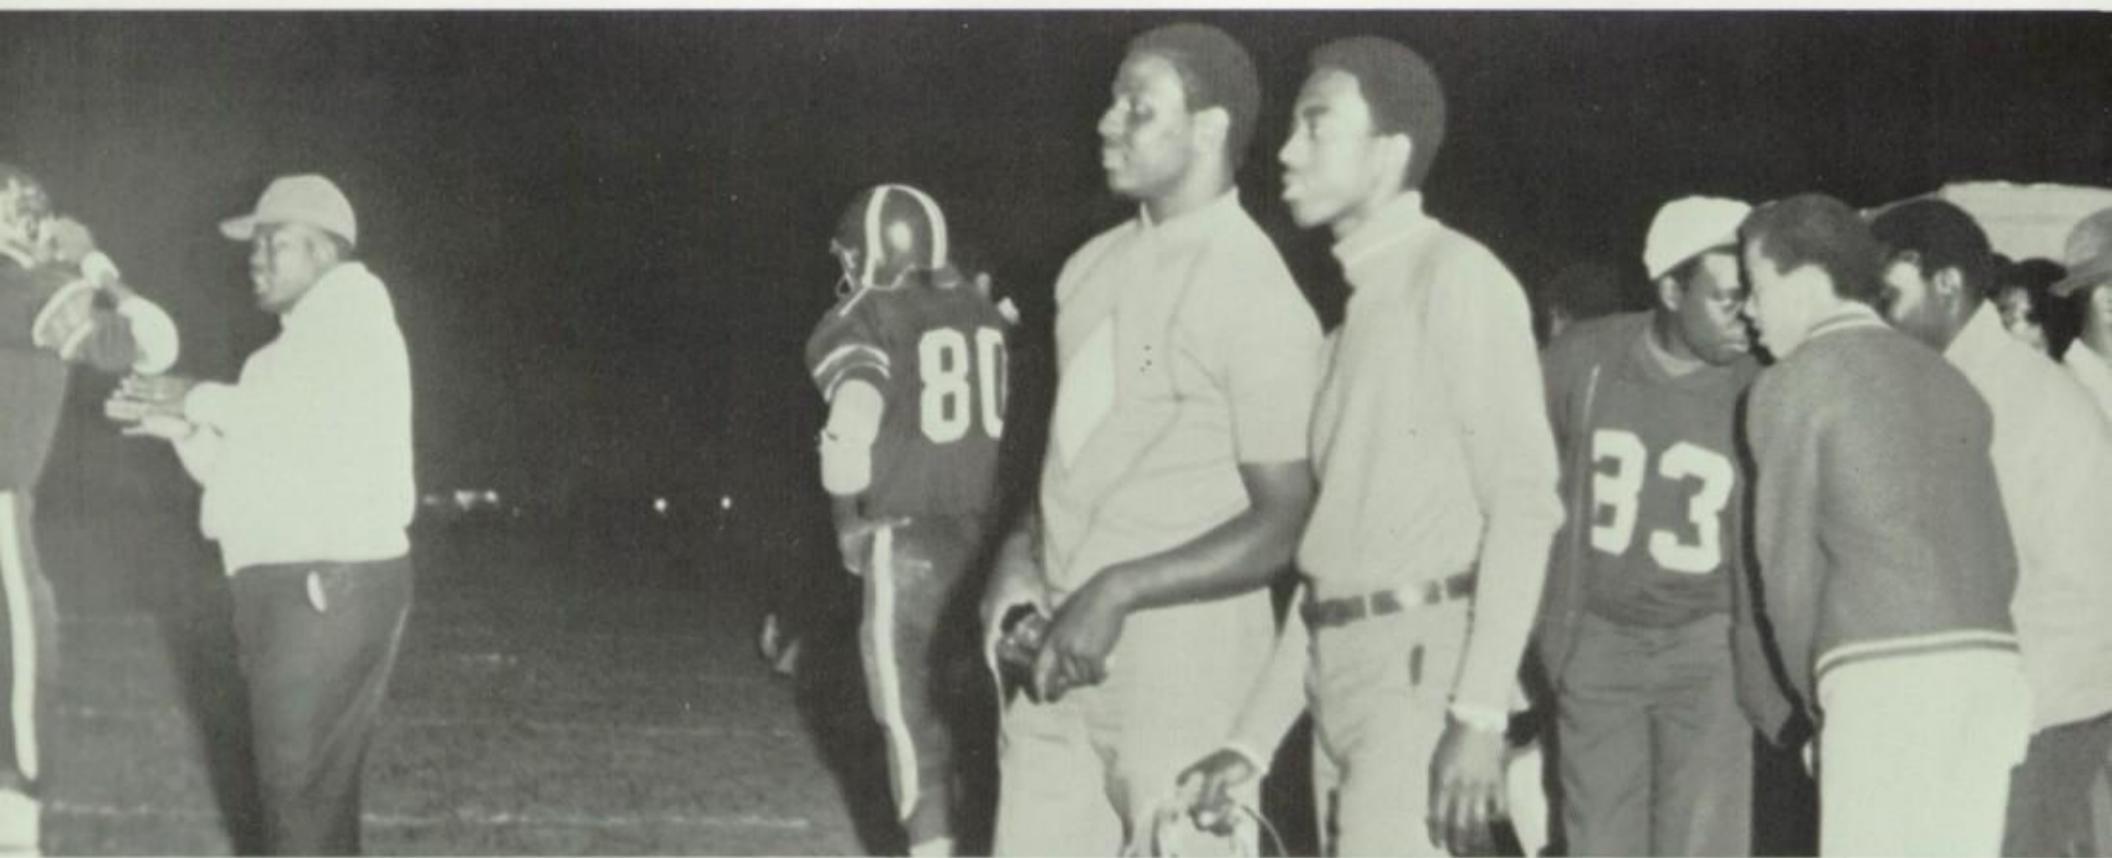

The mighty Eagles rolled over Prontiss 46-12.

The members of the choir are enrolled in the choral music class where they receive $\frac{1}{2}$ unit for the first year and one unit for each succeeding year.

They perform in regular assemblies, participates in exchange concerts, and many local organizations sponser them during the year.

Epilogue

The Eagle Staff would like to thank each of you who worked so diligently and patiently with us to give you the finished product, the 1970 Eagle.

The fun and frustration that presented itself in starting from scratch are too enormous to mention, so why bother!

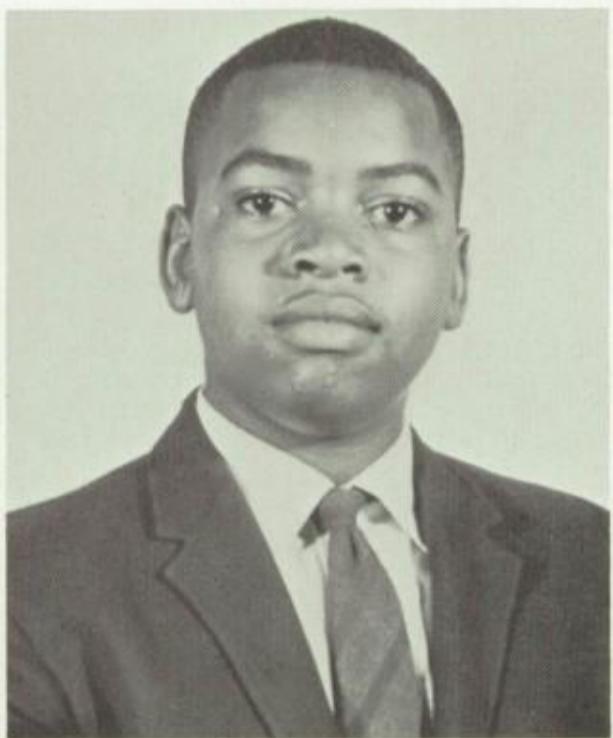

We hope that you will have as much fun turning the pages to relive this past school year, as we—the members of the staff have in presenting it to you—the members of the Brinkley Family.
